ADVISING

At the Institute for American Studies, students find a comprehensive network of advising to assist them in all questions relating to the organization of their program of study. To make sure that staff members have time for your questions and concerns, please take note of their office hours (available at the American Studies Website), or make individual appointments.

The following colleagues are available for the following concerns:

- questions relating to program requirements; general guidance and advice on how to organize your studies
Sebastian Herrmann, Katja Kanzler, Katja Schmieder, Frank Usbeck
- advice and services concerning transfer from another university or from another degree program; credit for study abroad
Crister Garrett, Katja Kanzler
- questions relating to specific fields of study, including format of exams:
  - SHP/Kulturgeschichte Crister Garrett, Frank Usbeck
  - LC/Literaturwissenschaft Sebastian Herrmann, Katja Kanzler, Anne Koenen, Katja Schmieder

IN THE FIRST TWO WEEKS OF OCTOBER, AMERICAN STUDIES LEIPZIG OFFERS ADVISING AND ORIENTATION EVENTS FOR ITS VARIOUS STUDENT COHORTS. PLEASE VISIT HTTP://AMERICANSTUDIES.UNI-LEIPZIG.DE FOR DETAILS.

REGISTRATION FOR CLASSES

For Magister and Lehramt, only some classes require prior registration: If course descriptions don't specify registration procedures, you register in the first class meeting. If prior registration is required, course descriptions may ask you to register by e-mail or via Lehrbox, the e-learning platform used at the Institute. To register via Lehrbox, simply follow the link to the respective course homepage (at the electronic version of this course catalogue) and follow the instructions there. And please pay attention to the deadlines that may apply!

Students enrolled in our BA and MA programs need to register via HIS LSF. For first-year-students, registration is taken care of during the course of their orientation. Second-year-BA-students should pay attention to the registration procedures detailed at <http://americanstudies.uni-leipzig.de>.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International Students are very welcome in the courses offered by the Institute for American Studies. To learn more about places available in individual courses, please contact the instructor, and describe your situation briefly (i.e., exchange student, international guest student, participating in an international degree program). We will do our very best to include you in our courses and welcome you to the Institute for American Studies.
