In case you don't find your Matrikel-No. on this list, we were unfortunately unable to consider your application at this point in the registration process. We regret that we cannot accommodate all students interested in attending our Modules – we received a lot more applications than we have slots available.

However, not all students we accepted at this point may confirm their registration, and slots may again become available. If you are still interested in attending an American Studies Module, please check with the university's Restplatzbörse (<https://sb.uni-leipzig.de/restplatzboerse/>) which will post available slots from April 5 on.
